Hi All,

I have been unable to run a comparison on my computer. MS Word was crashing every time he was doing it. Thus, I asked my administrative assistant, Erik, to do it, but he said his computer crashed a lot, too, and I am wondering if the compare feature did not get properly installed when we switched to MS 2016? Alternatively, Erik and I could both have old computers (mine is over four years old) and perhaps something is wrong with MS 2016 on the older computers. However, Erik was able to generate the attached files, but if you look at them they appear to be highlighting the entire document as new, which is obviously not correct. I called him to ask if he can try re-comparing the amendment only as a test, since it has the least figures in it, but I think he is at lunch. Thus, if anyone else is able to run a compare, please do so. I am forwarding what I consider the three original documents. In the meantime, I am going to look at the documents side by side on the screen and skim to see if there are differences.

Thank you,
Jenny

Hi Jenny.

I also had trouble comparing and saving the files. My computer crashed A LOT.

Please let me know if these work or if I should try again.
